SHIBUSA

Simplicity, implicitness, modesty, naturalness, everydayness, imperfection, and silence. In these traits, one discovers the Japanese aesthetic philosophy of shibusa.

Connection, sharing, collaboration – these activities have never been more important at work and in life. We come together in places created to encourage and support engagement and contribution. In conference rooms, around tables, in groups large and not so large, we converse, display, enlighten and learn.

Suspended in the balance between simplicity and complexity, restraint and spontaneity, SHIBUSA by Okamura represents understated elegance and quiet confidence.

Designed by Richard Holbrook

Richard Holbrook has been helping companies create innovative and successful products and brand positioning strategies for over thirty years. Working with industry leaders in office and outdoor furniture, appliances, lighting, and consumer products, he has built a portfolio of work that is diverse in scope and consistent in design excellence.

Effortless comfort,
purposeful posture
support.

- Simplicity
Easy to understand and effortless to use.
- Modesty
Graceful in appearance, movement, and spirit.
- Everydayness
Unassuming, unobtrusive, familiar.
- Silence
Quietly confident, subtle and respectful.

COMFORT

The exclusive tilt mechanism provides postural support for the activities of conferencing. A fixed seat cushion and a backrest recline range of 11 degrees eliminate seat drop, keeping eye levels more consistent.

FIT

Height adjustment is activated with a discrete lever easily accessed under the right front seat corner.
